NEWLYWEDS SPEND QUIET CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS for the newlyweds Robin Gibb and Molly will be a quiet affair this year. It will be quiet too for the other pop personalities who'll be spending their first Christmas together.

Robin and Molly, married at Caxton Hall on December 4th., will stay in their lovely Knightsbridge home. Molly will cook her first Christmas dinner, Robin will rest, and they'll both hope for snow so they can go and play in Hyde Park. It won't be a family re-union for the Gibbs, they're all doing something different. (Barry is going to Australia.)

Tich of Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick and Tich, and his new bride Sue will be separated for some of the Christmas holiday. So too will Dozy and his wife Yvonne, for the group open at the ABC Stockton with their panto Dick Whittington before the Yuletide hols. The girls don't expect to get together—they both live in Salisbury—but they are hoping the boys will be home for Christmas Day.

Harmony Grass member Kenny Rowe and his November bride Wendy will be celebrating Christmas at Wendy's parents' home in Wanstead, London. But Wendy won't be getting out of cooking her first Christmas dinner. Said her mum: "I'll get her helping."

Herman and Mireille are still planning their Christmas but hope to see both their parents. Mireille's parents live in Bayswater so the young couple will probably go there for one day. Herman's mum and dad have a hotel in Herne Bay so will probably be busy over the holiday.

Small Faces Steve and Plonk, also spending their first Christmas with their wives, plan on making Christmas a family affair. Steve and Jenny, they were married in May, will stay at their lovely Tudor cottage in Essex and will entertain their in-laws.

Plonk and Sue, they were married in April, plan on spending Christmas Day with Ronnie's mum and dad in Romford, and Boxing Day with Sue's mum and dad in Sussex. Said Sue: "We're going to have a lovely rest."
